Mrs. W. C. Tolar entertained on Thursday evening from eight-thirty to eleven. The hall, living room and parlor were lovely in their spring covering of pink "Dorothy Perkins" roses. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Tolar, then ushered to the punch bowl in the rear hall, where Mesdames Jackson and Rogers served punch. Then places were found at tables daintily numbered with the little pink roses, for rook. After spending a pleasant evening in the game, cream and cake were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Coke Rogers.

Mr. J. T. Moody, Jr., was in town Tuesday on his way home from a trip to Hazelhurst, Ga., where he had been to see Miley Hayes, a son of Mr. Mack Hayes, of Lake View, who was seriously injured in an automobile accident some days ago. The young man was driving the automobile when it crashed into a telephone pole. The impact was so great that the pole was broken off at the ground and knocked a considerable distance. Mr. Hayes was thrown against the steering wheel with such violence that he sustained serious internal injuries and grave apprehensions were felt as to his recovery. When he left Hazelhurst Monday, said Mr. Moody, Mr. Hayes was getting along very well and his chances for recovery are good. His father, Mr. Mack Hayes, arrived Sunday and will be with his son until he recovers. Mr. Moody says he passed through the boll weevil section and failed to see a single hill of cotton, but everywhere he looked he saw oats and corn and other food crops. Corn, says Mr. Hayes, was looking particularly good and there was every promise of abundant yields in that section this year.

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. EMMA SAMAHA.

Passed Away at a Fayetteville Hospital Sunday Afternoon.

Mrs. Emma Samaha, wife of Mr. Bobbie Samaha, died at a Fayetteville hospital Sunday afternoon, following an operation which had been performed a few hours previous to her death. While it was known among a few of her intimate friends that Mrs. Samaha had gone to a hospital for treatment, her condition was not generally regarded as serious and the news of her death came as a shock to the people of Dillon.

Mrs. Samaha was a bride of little more than a year, having been married on February 23, 1920, to Mr. Bobbie Samaha, of Dillon. She was a young woman of most attractive personality, kind, courteous and generous, and her untimely death is mourned not only by her large family connection but by scores of friends by whom she was greatly loved and admired.

Mrs. Samaha was born at Mt. Lebanon, Syria, on April 19, 1900, and came to this country with her parents in 1913. She entered the Dillon public schools shortly after her arrival and always took a high stand in her classes, graduating from the high school with honors. After leaving school she took a course in music, for which she developed an extraordinary talent, and was regarded as one of the community's most gifted musicians. Later she entered the employ of her brother-in-law, Mr. Charlie Saleeby as bookkeeper, in which position she remained until her marriage to Mr. Samaha in 1920.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Samaha is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Saleeby, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Charlie Saleeby, and Misses Mary, Carmen and Josephine Saleeby; Dr. A. A. Saleeby and Drumba Saleeby. She also has numerous other relatives in this country and in her native home, Syria.

The funeral services were conducted at her home Monday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. Wm. B. S. Chandler, assisted by Rev. W. C. Allen and Dr. W. B. Duncan, and the interment was made at Mt. Holly Cemetery. The pallbearers were: J. B. Gibson, Joe P. Lane, Jno. C. Bethea, Alec Baroddy, of Florence, J. F. Courie, of Marion, and N. F. Saleeby, of Monroe, N. C.

The floral offerings, which came from this and many other states, were numerous and beautiful.

ARE YOU GUILTY?

A FARMER carrying an express package from a big mail-order house was accosted by a local dealer.

"Why didn't you buy that bill of goods from me? I could have saved you the express, and besides you would have been patronizing a home store, which helps pay the taxes and builds up this locality."

The farmer looked at the merchant a moment and then said:

"Why don't you patronize your home paper and advertise? I read it and didn't know that you had the stuff I have here."
